

AALS COMMITTEE ON CURRICULUM

SURVEY OF INNOVATIONS IN LAW SCHOOL CURRICULA

The AALS has decided to focus on the issue of curriculum reform in American Law Schools, and would like to set up a process that enables law schools to share information about what is being done, help each other develop new initiatives, and generally catalyze the effort to bring law teaching into the 21st century. The first step in this process is a survey of current curriculum reform efforts. We understand that surveys come thick and fast these days, but we promise that this is not an effort to collect information that will then sit on someone's shelf, or in someone's hard drive. First, you'll receive information in return, information about new ideas and implementation strategies that other law schools have developed. Second, we'll use the results of the survey to design various settings where law school faculty and administrators can come together to share ideas and develop plans about reforming the law school curriculum.

The following questions are designed to be answered by brief statements, sometimes one or two words, sometimes one or two sentences. We would be delighted if you want to attach a longer description of any program or plan that you regard as particularly worth sharing. In addition, feel free to attach documents you've already prepared for other purposes.

I. First Year

1. Do you have an elective in the first year? No

If so, what does it consist of?

A limited number of courses specially designed for the first year

A limited number of upper division courses

Any upper division course the student chooses to take

Something else (please describe)

We used to for a brief period about 5 years ago

2. Do you offer or require any skills courses or training in the first year other than legal writing and/or Legal Research? If so, please describe.

Our skills training in first year is delivered in a Lawyering Seminar that integrates legal writing, legal research, problem-solving, client counseling, interviewing, and formal advocacy.

If you offer or require legal writing, is it something other than a separate class taught by specially-hired, non-tenure track instructors? If so, please describe.

It is taught by tenured and tenure-track faculty under the direction and supervision of our Legal Writing Director who is a tenured Professor

3. Aside from the electives and skills courses described above, do you require any course other than Torts, Contracts, Civil Procedure, Criminal Law, Property and Constitutional Law?

Yes

If so, what is it?

Legal Methods

Regulatory Law

International Law

Evidence

Criminal Procedure

Theories of Law

Other, please describe

A con law course called, Liberty, Equality, and Due Process and a Law and Family Relations Course

4. Do you offer a separate curriculum in the first year that students can choose, or to which they are assigned? If so, please describe.

No

5. Have you made significant changes or innovations in your first year curriculum recently other than those described in response to the foregoing questions? If so please describe.

II. Second and Third Years

1. Do you offer a specialized track or concentration program in any of the following areas?

Business Law

Public Law
International Law
Transnational Law
Social Justice
Criminal Law and Procedure
Other, please describe

Human Rights, Equality, Health, Immig's Rights, Criminal Defense, Elder Law

Public Law

Requires courses that other students can take as well (please specify)
Offers special courses (please describe) Our public interest curriculum offers at least two courses in each specialty in addition to internships and clinics

Requires special courses (please describe)

Provides placements, internships or clinical program (please describe)

Yes. A 12-16 credit live-client clinic or a 12 credit internship

Grants a certificate (please tell us for what)

Other features (please describe) all specialties include credits in doctrine, skills, theory, and ethics, as well as practice opportunities

International Law; Social Justice: Criminal Law; Human Rights, Equality, Health, Immig's Rights, Criminal Defense, Elder Law

Requires courses that other students can take as well (please specify) Same as b

Offers special courses (please describe)

Requires special courses (please describe)

Provides placements, internships or clinical program (please describe)

Grants a certificate (please tell us for what)

Other features (please describe)

2. Apart from the standard live client clinics, and the clinical programs described in your answer to the previous question, do you offer any other kinds of clinical programs? If so, please describe.

Our internship program is called Concentrations. It requires two full days of work in the field and carries 6 hours of class work in addition to 2 hours of rounds per week.

3. What joint degree or accelerated degree programs do you offer?

none

4. Other than the programs described above, do you have any other interdisciplinary programs of note?

We have a social work supervisor and social work students in our clinical programs

5. Have you made significant changes or innovations in your second and third year curriculum recently other than those described in response to the foregoing questions? If so please describe.

We have added a 4-credit bar review course. We have added 'directed writing opportunity' courses in which a student can elect an extra credit of supervised writing.

III. Curricular Reform Process

1. Did you gather data in connection with any of the curriculum reforms described earlier? If yes, and if you can share them, please attach a copy or describe their general findings.

2. How did the most significant curricular change in your school in the last 10 years come about - - who initiated the change and by what process?

It was a response to poor bar pass rates. It was initiated by the academic dean.

IV. Next Steps

1. What information would you like to receive about curricular reform?

2. Would you be interested in presenting any curricular reform(s) that you are undertaking in a special session at an AALS annual meeting? Which one(s)?

Yes

If so, would you be interested in doing so at the next (2007) meeting? It will be held in San Francisco, and spec