

CALL FOR PAPERS

AMERICAN
CONSTITUTION
SOCIETY FOR
LAW AND POLICY

Barry University Law School Student Chapter &
Texas A & M University School of Law

Barry Law Review Constitutional Law Symposium

FRIDAY, MARCH 1, 2019

Orlando, FL

The Barry Law Review invites papers on a constitutional law topic for its Constitutional Law Symposium, which coincides with the ACS Constitutional Law Scholars Forum. Authors who are selected for publication will present their papers at the ACS Constitutional Law Scholars Forum and be eligible for funding for travel expenses to the Forum. Authors' works will be published in the spring edition of the Barry Law Review, which anticipates receiving a draft from authors in January 2019 for the editing process.

The student chapter of the American Constitution Society at Barry University School of Law and Texas A&M University School of Law are hosting the Fourth Annual ACS Constitutional Law Scholars Forum at the Dwayne O. Andreas School of Law Campus, 6441 East Colonial Drive, Orlando, FL 32807. Those who are interested in presenting at the Forum without the publication commitment are also invited to submit proposals with travel being self-funded. Meals and a dinner reception will be provided on March 1.

The deadline for submission is December 31, 2018.

Barry University School of Law is located within close proximity to recreational activities: Universal Studios, Disney World, Epcot Center, Sea World, world class golf courses, and beaches. Orlando offers an average temperature of 78°F in March/April.

Abstract Submissions:

Email proposals to Professor Eang Ngov, engov@barry.edu, with "Constitutional Law Scholars Forum" in the subject line. Submissions should include a short abstract (300 words maximum) and biography (150 words maximum). If a complete draft is available, please include a draft of the article.

Conference Organizers:

Professor Eang Ngov, engov@barry.edu, office (321) 206 -5677, cell phone (571) 643-2691

Professor Meg Penrose, megpenrose@law.tamu.edu