

Table 3

Implications of Settings Created Primarily for Educational or Delivery of Services

What Settings Created Primarily for Education Typically Provide <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Primary focus on students' educational experience and specific educational outcomes2. Explicit pedagogy provided by professional educators3. Opportunity for teacher to tailor work performed to meet educational goals by choosing nature of legal work, specific cases or matters, and work assigned to students
What Settings Created Primarily for Delivery of Service Typically Provide <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Exposure to setting's mission2. Exposure to conditions and pressures of practice and how attorneys function in light of them3. Exposure to settings, e.g., judicial chambers, or legislature; roles, e.g. in-house counsel or judge and law clerk; and cultures that cannot be replicated by the law school