Meet us in San Diego

for the 112th Annual Meeting of the Association of American Law Schools

It is my pleasure to invite you to San Diego this coming January 3-6, 2018. Join us for the 112th Annual Meeting of the Association of American Law Schools and engage with your colleagues and communities in exploration of this year's theme: Access to Justice.

The mission of AALS and, by extension, the purpose of the Annual Meeting, is to uphold and advance excellence in legal education. Law schools continue to face challenges, including the recent turn in public opinion against higher education in general. How do we, as individual scholars as well as our law schools as academic entities, take this opportunity to improve our teaching, communicate the value of law and legal education, and advance access to justice?

Our schedule of programs will address these topics holistically, on scales both individualized and broad. We have welcomed diverse viewpoints and thoughtful review within our general AALS programs, and the 102 AALS Sections have designed their programs and panels with an eye to their particular discipline. No other gathering of law professors and professional staff is as large or complete a representation of the varying perspectives that make up the U.S. legal academy.

We have made every effort to keep our meeting affordable. We've maintained lower registration fees for new and emeriti/retired faculty. If you register before November 17, 2017, you will receive a discount on your registration fee. AALS has negotiated a rate of $165 per night for a single or double occupancy room in our waterfront headquarters hotel, the recently-renovated Marriott Marquis San Diego Marina. Your budget is important to us, and with these significant discounts and benefits, we hope you'll join us and participate in the meeting this year.

I hope to see you in San Diego this January.

Law Schools and Access to Justice

AALS President Paul Marcus
Haynes Professor of Law,
William & Mary Law School

Access to justice is at the core of our constitutional society. Supreme Court Justice Lewis Powell once wrote, “Equal justice under law is not merely a caption on the facade of the Supreme Court building; it is perhaps the most inspiring ideal of our society.”

For a long time, many law schools recognized the importance of training students to work for this fundamental ideal. While much has been done, clearly the needs remain great. In the criminal justice area, a dearth of lawyers results in criminal defendants being deprived of their constitutional right to counsel. The difficulties on the civil side are just as troubling: for every client served by a legal aid group, one person who seeks help is turned down because of insufficient resources.

The story of the admirable efforts by law faculty members and students to meet these great needs is not well-publicized. But our story, as members of AALS, is all about dedicated students and faculty members across the United States who diligently pursue the goal of equal justice for all by providing sorely needed legal representation.

It is an exciting story of the recent explosion, in number and variety, of legal clinics at our member schools. These clinics focus on an enormously broad set of legal issues involving disabilities, Native American concerns, low income taxpayers, special education, social security, elder law, civil rights, domestic violence, criminal defense, and consumer issues among many other fields. Most recently, we have seen the tremendous efforts of law students and faculty members across the nation to assist in the lawful immigration process of many seeking to come to—or remain in—the United States.

Our story is what we are bound to do. As written by Supreme Court Justice Sonia Sotomayor, “We educated, privileged lawyers have a professional and moral duty to represent the underrepresented in our society, to ensure that justice exists for all, both legal and economic justice.”

This larger story of what we as legal educators can do, and what we and our students are doing, to assure fairness in law for our less fortunate citizens is an exhilarating and uplifting story.

The Feature Film Selection: My Cousin
Vinny (1992)

The Law and Film Series presents films chosen for their cinematic and legal value, identifying film resources for possible classroom instructional purposes, as well as for raising general awareness of the connection between law and film. For each of the two nights of film showings, we will present films chosen by the AALS Annual Meeting Film Advisory Committee. There will be brief discussions and commentary in connection with the films.

My Cousin Vinny is an American comedy film directed by Jonathan Lynn. The film deals with two young New Yorkers traveling through rural Alabama who are arrested and put on trial for a murder they did not commit and the comical attempts of a cousin, Vincent Gambini, a lawyer fresh out of law school, to defend them. Much of the humor comes from the contrasting personalities of the brash Italian-American New Yorkers, Vinny and his fiancée Mona Lisa, and the more reserved Southern townspeople. The film stars Joe Pesci, Ralph Macchio, Marisa Tomei, Mitchell Whitfield, Lane Smith, Bruce McGill, and Fred Gwynne. Tomei won the Academy Award for Best Supporting Actress. After the film, there will be a moderated discussion.

[1450] Environmental Law, Natural Resources & Energy Law Joint Field Trip –
The Transnational Ecosystem of California's Southwestern Corner

Ticket price $85 per person

Participant on this field trip will learn about coastal and water supply issues in Southern California and our international relations with Mexico on these subjects. The Tijuana River is a treaty waterway between the U.S. and Mexico, although far less well known than the Colorado River and the Rio Grande River. Its mouth, south of San Diego, is protected as a National Estuarine Research Reserve. The Carlsbad Desalination Plant, a little north of San Diego, opened in late 2016 as an alternative water supply system to the State Water Project and Colorado River deliveries. It uses state-of-the-art technology to reduce energy consumption, and the plant owners restored and protected hundreds of acres of coastal wetlands as part of the project. Together, these two sites allow attendees to explore the international, ecological, and energy considerations involved in keeping Southern California supplied with fresh water. A box lunch is included in the field trip fee.

Participants should meet at 8:15 am at the Marriott Marquis, North Tower/Level One, Pacific Ballroom Drive, to depart at 8:30 am by bus for the field trip. You will return to the Marriott Marquis by 5 pm. AALS now follows PCI Data Compliance Standards. We can accept your payment for the field trip up to 24 hours in advance, but in order to meet standards, we will not be selling tickets on the day of the field trip. Participants will need to sign a waiver of liability to participate in this off-site field trip.

Speakers:

Cara Drinan, The Catholic University of America

The Honorable S. Bernard Goodwyn, Justice, Supreme Court of Virginia

Alex R. Gulotta, Executive Director, Bay Area Legal Aid

Martha Minow, Vice Chair, Legal Services Corporation

These are difficult times in the United States for poor people in need of vital legal assistance. Criminal defense lawyers are overwhelmed with enormous caseloads and defendants may be afforded little time to consult with their attorneys. The problems with civil justice are just as severe. Thousands of our fellow citizens are unable to receive help with legal problems because of routinely underfunded legal aid programs.

AALS President Paul Marcus welcomes four nationally prominent and thoughtful individuals who will discuss with him the problems they see with access to justice. They will, in addition, propose solutions that might actually make a genuine difference in providing the kind of legal assistance our nation aspires to.

The AALS appoints one member (the AALS reporter) to the ABA/AALS sabbatical site team. The reporter is a member of the joint team and also writes an additional report for the AALS focusing on the organization's core values. This workshop is designed for those who serve, or are interested in serving, as the AALS reporter, as well as schools that will be visited in the coming academic year. Speakers will discuss AALS core values, materials available to the AALS reporter, the site visit and membership review process, and the AALS questionnaire schools must complete prior to a site visit. The workshop also provides essential information about the ABA sabbatical process, as the AALS reporter also functions as a full member of the site team and will have responsibility for a portion of the ABA report.

Backed by mentor Jonathan “Rap” Rapping, a charismatic leader who heads the Southern Public Defender Training Center (now known as Gideon’s Promise) they struggle against long hours, low pay and staggering caseloads so common that even the most committed often give up in their first year. Nearly 50 years since the landmark Supreme Court ruling Gideon vs. Wainwright that established the right to counsel, can these courageous lawyers revolutionize the way America thinks about indigent defense and make “justice for all” a reality?

On this field trip, participants will learn about the socio-legal history of a San Diego neighborhood that adapted creatively to late twentieth century urban renewal policies and is once again facing gentrification processes. In addition, we hope it will stimulate participants to interrogate similar neighborhood processes in the cities and towns where they live and teach.

To attend this field trip, please sign-up through AALS Registration, and while AALS will not be collecting a fee in advance for this field trip, please note there is a roundtrip trolley fare of $5.00 which participants will pay at the boarding of the trolley. There is no entry fee to Chicano Park. Participants should plan to meet in the Marriott Marquis lobby at 9 am to walk to the nearest station of the San Diego Trolley. Participants will need to sign a waiver of liability to participate in this off-site field trip.

A more international perspective can also enrich our own scholarship and teaching. AALS invites legal educators from outside the United States to attend this reception held in their honor. The reception will provide an opportunity to mingle with colleagues from law schools all around the globe and forge important potential partnerships and connections.

Beware of Housing Pirates and Poachers!

In the past, registrants have sometimes been contacted with offers for cut-rate housing. The intent is to convince you that the offer is made on behalf of AALS, or that the soliciting company is a viable alternative to Experient. This is not true. Housing for the Annual Meeting is handled exclusively by Experient, through online booking only once you have registered for the Annual Meeting.

When AALS secures sleeping rooms at hotels for our Annual Meeting (commonly referred to as room blocks), we research the properties to make certain that our attendees will be adequately accommodated. The room block is established to ensure that sleeping rooms meet our standards and are offered at the discounted price.

Don't be misled! If you are contacted by anyone asking if you need a room for the Annual Meeting, please do not make a reservation or provide a method of payment. We ask that you get as much information as you can about the caller and pass it on to Mary Cullen, Associate Director of Meetings, at mcullen@aals.org.
