AALS Annual Meeting

Section Roundtable:

The EU and the Rise of Populist Nationalism

Saturday, January 6, 2018

9 a.m. – 12 p.m.

Does the rise of populist nationalism in Europe pose a threat to the European Union? This panel will examine the question, with particular reference to Brexit and its consequences, along with the rise of populist-nationalist parties in such countries as Greece, the Netherlands, Italy, Germany, Hungary, France, Sweden, and Denmark. Populist-nationalist movements in several member states have combined a rhetoric of xenophobic nationalism with a sovereigntist skepticism of the European Union. Elements of these attitudes have also appeared in parties on the left. Many people are now openly supporting, variously, their state's exit from the EU, departure from the euro, restrictions on immigration and/or the religious freedom of Muslims, among other policies. This panel will engage how the EU has responded, and can respond in the future, to the rise of populist nationalism in the political orders of the member-states. Is the answer 'more Europe' or 'less', or perhaps some complex combination of the two? From Brexit negotiations to infringement proceedings and sanctions against countries in violation of EU laws, to CJEU decisions on equality, nondiscrimination, fundamental rights, how might EU institutions advance the integration project in these new dynamics?

Erin Delaney, Northwestern University

Tomasz Koncewicz, Princeton University (LAPA Fellow)

Peter Lindseth, University of Connecticut

Ralf Michaels, Duke University

Vlad Perju, Boston College Law School

Julie Suk, Cardozo School of Law – Yeshiva University (Moderator).

Section Reminders

The roundtable discussion will conclude at 11:45 a.m. so that we can have an administrative meeting of the Section on European Law. At the administrative meeting, we will elect the members of next year's officers and executive committee, and discuss opportunities to collaborate in 2018 on organizing conference panels and/or managing the EU Law blog.

The current members of the Executive Committee include:

Julie Suk, Chair (outgoing)

Fernanda Nicola, Chair-Elect

Daniela Caruso

Erin Delaney

Peter Lindseth

We would like to remind all section members that the AALS maintains a discussion listserv to which ANY MEMBER of the section may post, so that we can continue to post conferences, publications, and calls for papers throughout the year. As long as you are a registered member of this section with AALS, you can send messages by e-mailing SECTEP@lists.aals.org.

Calls for Papers

Submitted by Section Members

Annual Comparative Law Work-in-Progress Workshop

February 23-24
Princeton University

EXTENDED DEADLINE: Announcement and Call for Papers

Co-Organized and Co-Hosted by Kim Lane Scheppele (Princeton University), Jacqueline Ross (University of Illinois College of Law), and Jacques DeLisle (University of Pennsylvania Law School)

Co-Sponsored by Princeton University, the University of Illinois College of Law, the University of Pennsylvania Law School, and the American Society of Comparative Law

We are excited to welcome our newest co-organizer, Professor Jacques DeLisle, Stephen A. Cozen Professor of Law and Professor of Political Science and Director of the Center for East Asian Studies at the University of Pennsylvania Law School and we bid a fond farewell to Professor Maximo Langer of the UCLA School of Law, with whom we have greatly enjoyed co-hosting many meetings of this annual workshop series.

We invite all interested comparative law scholars to consider submitting a paper to the next annual Comparative Law Work-in-Progress Workshop, which will be held February 23-24, 2018 at Princeton University.

Interested authors should submit papers to Kim Lane Scheppele at kimlane@princeton.edu. We have extended the deadline and ask for papers to be submitted by January 8, 2018. We will inform authors of our decision by January 20. Participants whose papers have been accepted should plan to arrive in Princeton by Thursday night on February 22 and to leave on Saturday afternoon or Sunday morning.

Identity, Security, Democracy: Challenges for Public Law

ICON-S 2018 Annual Conference Hong Kong, June 25-27, 2018

The International Society of Public Law (ICON-S) is pleased to announce that its 2018 Annual Conference will be held in Hong Kong on June 25-27, 2018, under the auspices of the University of Hong Kong's Faculty of Law and its Centre for Comparative and Public Law – one of Asia's foremost centres for the study of public law in all its varieties. This will be the fifth Annual Conference of ICON-S, following the four Annual Conferences (Florence 2014, New York 2015, Berlin 2016, Copenhagen 2017) which have been overwhelmingly successful, thanks to the support of our Members.

ICON-S now invites paper and panel submissions for the 2018 Annual Conference. The overarching theme of the Conference will be "Identity, Security, Democracy: Challenges for Public Law."

Panel proposals should include at least three papers by scholars who have agreed in advance to participate. Such fully-formed panel proposals should also identify one or two discussants, who may also serve as panel chair and/or paper presenter. Concurrent panel sessions will be scheduled over two days. Each concurrent panel session will be scheduled for 90 minutes.

All submissions must be made through the ICON-S website <https://www.icon-society.org> by January 31, 2018. Successful applicants will be notified by March 1, 2018.
